Getting involved with Touchstone

Touchstone makes a difference to the lives of people, working together with them to improve their health and wellbeing.

We want to support you to get involved and influence how we do things at Touchstone.

How can you get involved?

- Become a trainer and present your work at conferences or to other organisations.
- Come and meet the managers at Touchstone and tell them face to face what you think.
- Help Touchstone get the right people for jobs by short-listing and interviewing people.
- Become a trainer and pass on your knowledge to Touchstone staff.
- Become a compliments and complaints auditor and check we are doing our job properly.
- Interview other service users about what they think about Touchstone and tell us how we can improve.

- Help put together a newsletter for service users.
- Train to be a Touchstone evaluator and audit teams and their work.
- Join the Board of Trustees.
- Fill in a survey and tell us what you think anonymously.
- Join one of Touchstone's service user involvement forums.
- Help organise parties and events.
- Join Touchstone's Service User Involvement Group and get the support of the Chief Executive and the Service User Involvement Lead.

What's in it for you?

- You get to influence and change what Touchstone does
- We will listen to your opinion and act on it
- You can get training to increase your knowledge and skills
 - Increase your confidence
 - Meet new people
 - A chance to give something back to Touchstone
 - We will reimburse your travel expenses and pay you for your time
