

Community Wellbeing Connectors - Service User Privacy Notice

Touchstone is committed to protecting and respecting your privacy and keeping your information secure.

By providing us with your information and agreeing to this privacy notice, you are giving us your consent to handle and process your information. If you do not consent, we will not be able to provide you with the service you have requested.

How we get your information

This service is provided in partnership between Touchstone and Leeds and York Partnership NHS Foundation Trust (LYPFT). Your information will be gathered, stored and shared by Touchstone on Care Director.

Touchstone will obtain your personal data from LYPFT. This could include your name, address, contact information, date of birth, gender, ethnicity, sexuality, disabilities, relationship status, residency status, diagnoses, history of mental and physical health, employment history, offending history, GP's details and NHS number. We will always check directly with you that the information provided by a third-party referrer is correct.

We may be required to collect additional information from third parties e.g. background check agencies and may elect to conduct an online search of your name, for example on Google, in order to consider your suitability for the service you are being referred to.

How we look after your information

So that Touchstone can provide you with support we need to know about your health and wellbeing needs. We must follow the rules of the law about how we look after your information and keep it safe.

Any information stored on LYPFT systems in relation to you will be retained and deleted in accordance with LYPFT rules.

Information may be stored on Touchstone systems for those not on Care Director, and for monitoring purposes even for those on Care Director. Any information while that Touchstone holds about you will be kept for 3-years from when you stop receiving support from us, unless required to be kept for longer due to specific reasons in line with GDPR.

Sharing your information

Access to your personal information will be restricted to those who have a need to access it to carry out their duties within Touchstone.

To provide high-quality, effective care that is safe, responsive, timely, and efficient, we will both receive and share relevant and necessary information with other health and social care professionals involved in our Service Users' care, on the same legal basis.

We may share your data with:

- Multi-Disciplinary Teams (MDT) involved in providing your care.
- Commissioners and funders of the Service you receive.
- Partner organisations. If the service you are accessing is run in partnership, we will share your personal information on a need-to-know basis only.
- Third-party organisations.

Processing information relating to our Service Users, for healthcare purposes. The legal basis for this is UK-GDPR Article 9, subsection 2(h)

If we have concerns for your safety or the safety of others, we withhold the right to pass these concerns and any related relevant data to third parties. For example, a mental health crisis team or the police. We will follow our Safeguarding Policy (available on request) in relation to any concerns surrounding child safety or adults at risks.

Your rights

You have the right to be informed about how your information is looked after and used by Touchstone.

You have the right to request a copy of any personal information that Touchstone holds about you. However, we will check the information to ensure that any information that could cause harm or upset to you or anyone else is removed.

You have the right to ratification. If there are any mistakes in your personal information these will be corrected.

You have the right to erasure. You can withdraw your consent to Touchstone holding your personal data at any time.

Data Complaints

You have the right to make a complaint at any time if you believe that Touchstone has infringed GDPR legislation because of the way your personal information has been handled.

Data complaints can be received in writing or verbally and must be sent to Information Governance. Touchstone reserves the right to verify the identity of the person making the complaint before processing the request or disclosing any information.

Complainants are expected to have exhausted organisational complaints processes prior to escalating matters to the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO), the UK supervisory authority for data protection issues.
